[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, March 5, 1868.

At the White House to-day large crowds were in attendance, anxious to be admitted. The doors, however, were not opened for the reception of visitors, and within everything is perfectly tranquil. Very few gentlemen had interviews with the President to-day.

Mr. Grant, father of the President, is recovering from the effects of the severe fall of yesterday.

THE CABINET.

The announcement that the Cabinet nominees had been sent to the Capitol created the greatest sensation and speculations on the streets were more varied than ever.

Following are the members of the Cabinet, as announced:

E. B. Washburne, of Illinois, Secretary of State.

Adolph E. Borie, of Pennsylvania, Secretary of the Navy.

A. T. Stewart, of New York, Secretary of the Treasury.

J. D. Cox, of Ohio, Secretary of the Interior.

A. J. Creswell, of Maryland, Post Master General.

E. B. Hoar, of Massachusetts, Attorney General.

THE DEPARTMENTS.

Lieut. Gen. Sherman is unwell to-day and did not make his appearance at Army headquarters. The merest routine work is being continued in the different departments, excepting the War Office, from which important military orders will shortly be issued.

The work of renovating the White House has been commenced.

Assistant Secretary Hartley is acting Secretary of the Treasury to-day.

President Grant to-day accepted the resignation of Commissioner of Internal Revenue Rollins, to take effect upon the confirmation of a successor.

By direction of the Secretary of War a number of the minor officers are relieved from their present duties and ordered to join their respective regiments without delay.

GENERAL GRANT'S LAST ORDER.

The last military order issued by General Grant, as General of the Army, is dated March 3d, and relates to the economical disposition of condemned Government property, as follows: "Inspecting officers, in recommending the disposition of condemned property, especially of the Quartermaster's Department, will bear in mind that there is hardly any species of material, however worn, which cannot be put to some use. Old linen, cotton, wool, iron, &c., can all be used as fuel. Hereafter no condemned articles, unless there are special reasons to the contrary, which reasons must be stated in reports, will be sold."

APPOINTMENTS CONFIRMED.

All the Cabinet officers have been confirmed. Columbus Delano, of Ohio, was confirmed as Commissioner of Internal Revenue. A large number of military nominations were also confirmed.

The following nominations have been confirmed, including General Sherman to be General of the Army: Brigadier General John H. Schofield to be Major General, vice Sheridan promoted to Lieutenant General; Col. Christopher C. Augur, Brigadier General, vice Schofield promoted.

By command of General of the Army.

PRESIDENT PRESENTED WITH A BIBLE.

This morning a Committee, consisting of Chief Justice Chase, Senator Frelinghuysen and George H. Stuart, waited upon the President, and in behalf of the American Bible Society presented him with a copy of the Holy Bible. There were present, besides the Committee, Mrs. Grant, General Schofield, J. Patterson, formerly Treasurer of the Christian Commission, Rev. Dr. Dale, of Philadelphia, Rev. George A. Hall, of the Young Mens' Christian Association of this city. The Chief Justice presented the letter from the President of the Bible Society, expressing a wish that the administration of President Grant might be guided by its teachings. The President responded:

"Gentlemen, I sincerely thank you for this token and shall carefully preserve it and hand it down to my children in commemoration of this day."

The Bible is one of the finest published by the Society, and is handsomely bound in Turkey morocco. Printed in gilt letters upon morocco, inside the cover, is the inscription, "Presented to Ulysses S. Grant, President of the United States, by the American Bible Society, March 4th, 1869."

VARIOUS MATTERS.

Ex-Secretary Welles, before retirement from office, ordered a naval general court martial to meet at the New York Navy Yard on the 11th inst.

Nearly all the military and other organizations present at the inaugural have left Washington, together with thousands of others. Large numbers, however, remain for the purpose of gaining admission to the White House. The Saturday afternoon receptions of Mrs. Grant have been discontinued.

Among the few visitors to the White House this evening was ex-Senator Wade, who called to bid the President good-bye before leaving for Ohio.

Ex-Assistant Secretary of the Navy, Faxon, expects to leave here in a day or two for his home in Connecticut.

The President has not yet appointed his private Secretary.

Commissioner of Internal Revenue Rollins having yesterday tendered his resignation to the President, the latter to day authorized its acceptance, to take effect upon the qualification of his successor, and has directed a response, in which he expresses his appreciation of the heavy responsibilities which the office imposed on Mr. Rollins, and the fidelity and integrity with which they have been discharged.

The members of Harmony Fire Company, of Philadelphia, to-night serenaded President Grant at his private residence, on I street. He having previously been advised on the subject, the President appeared and shook hands with them as they filed past him.

A CORRECT LIST.

HOUSE POSTMASTER.

The Republican caucus to-day nominated the present incumbent, Mr. King, for Postmaster of the House.

New York Press on President Grant's Inaugural.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, March 5.—The Herald says, after rehearsing the points of Gen. Grant's inaugurul: "Here, then, including economy, retrenchment and a faithful collection of the public revenue, we have the sailing direction of the new administration. What is the general prospect? It is one full of promise, prosperity, progress, development and power at home and abroad, and so opens the new book of American history."

The World says: "The inaugural shows too much confidence and self-sufficiency; lacks the grave and sustained propriety of expression befitting the Chief Magistrate; has no original ideas, and everything in the message which is not flat is crude, and it is a mere echo of the tritest commonplace of the Republican press."

The Tribune says: "The emphatic declaration of President Grant that we should pay our national debt to the uttermost farthing, is worth countless millions to the labor, commerce and prosperity of the republic." It further says: "Grant will be the champion of the Monroe doctrine, and direct his policy towards consolidating and extending republican institutions upon the North American Continent." It hopes to receive from President Grant a splendid administration.

The Times says: "The inaugural touches great wants, indicates great duties, and propagates a great policy with a distinctness that leaves nothing in doubt, and the force of true-born earnestness. General Grant had something to say and he has said it thoroughly and well. No one doubts that General Grant will aim to meet the just wishes and expectations of the Republican party, not by conceding to the demands of its individual members, but by promoting the welfare of the country, and building up its prosperity on the principles of the party, as the only principles on which it can be safe and permanent."

The Sun says: "The inaugural is a plain, straighforward, succinct declaration of the views which will govern the National Executive during the next four years, and expresses the conviction of its author in a manner which the popular heart will everywhere warmly appreciates."

Sufferings of Union Pacific Railroad Passengers.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, March 4.—The Evening Dispatch publishes a long account of the trials and sufferings of a party of gentlemen who recently came over the Union Pacific Railroad. The account is given by one of the party which embraces many prominent gentlemen of California, New York and other eastern States, and says: They were detained ten days at Rawlings Station and could not induce the railroad officials to send a train out until they held an indignation meeting, and telegraphed the Railroad Committee at Washington of the treatment they were receiving When they did start they were obliged to shovel snow at different points, and, as they allege, were very badly fed. At one point they shoveled through a snow drift a thousand feet long, and when they had the track clear the engineer had only steam enough to carry them into the deepest of the drift, in consequence of too much whisky drank by the officers of the train, and they were stuck again. After remaining two days in this condition, about fifty of them started on foot for Laramie, ninety miles distant, reaching there in four days, after much suffering. From Laramie they came through to Omaha without detention. They complain bitterly of the treatment received at the hands of the railroad officials, who they charge with repeatedly making misrepresentations to them, and who would entertain no proposition to refund extra expenses incurred by the passengers. They also say exorbitant prices were charged them for provisions, in some instances a dollar and a half being demanded for a small piece of bread and molasses. They denounce the road and its management, and say they never wish to ride over it again. There were over two hundred persons on the train when it was left in the snow.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 5.—Governor Baker has issued a proclamation for special elections in several Senatorial and Representative districts where vacancies occurred by the resignation of Democratic members of the present Legislature, to be held on the 23d inst.

A special session of the Legislature will be held early in April. The Republican members of the Legislature hold daily sessions, but adjourn without transacting any business.

Mr. GRIMES offered a resolution for the appointment of a committee of two Senators (without waiting for the House committee) to inform the President of the organization of the Senate,

The resolution was agreed to, and the Vice President appointed Messrs. Grimes and Cragin as such committee.

The Senate then took a recess.

At 1:45 the session was resumed.

Mr. GRIMES reported that the committee appointed to wait on the President had performed their duty, and the President would immediately communicate with the Senate.

Gen. Rawlins, of Gen. Grant's staff, then stepped forward and said he was directed by the President of the United States to present to the Senate two messages in writing.

Major Lee also appeared and presented another message.

Mr. EDMUNDS at once moved to go into executive session. Agreed to, and the crowd slowly left the galleries.

At 2:30 the doors were re-opened and the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Mr. WOODWARD offered a resolution to refer to the Committee on Elections the contested case from the Twenty-first District of Pennsylvania, with instructions to report as soon as practicable which of the two claimants has a prima facie right to the seat.

The House refused to second the previous question.

Mr. SCOFIELD moved as an amendment a resolution reciting that the Governor of Pennsylvania had declared in a proclamation that no such returns had been received from the Twenty-first District as to authorize him to give a certificate to either of the two persons claiming it, but that the Governor had subsequently transmitted affidavits to the Clerk of the House which, he stated, indicated the election of John Covode, and then directing that Mr. Covode be sworn as the sitting member without prejudice to the claim of Henry D. Foster, contestant.

During the discussion there suddenly sprung up a scene of excitement. A messenger had arrived with the names of the Cabinet appointments and there was a general demand that the names be read from the Clerk's desk. They were read, and the House became so much excited that it was impossible to resume business for some time.

Mr. ELDRIDGE suggested a recess for ten minutes, so members might have an opportunity to commisserate each other. [Laughter.]

A recess was taken and upon re-assembling, Mr. WOODWARD, resuming the floor, said as to the Secretary of the Navy a more conservative and respectable citizen was not to be found in Pennsylvania.

Finally a substitute, offered by Mr. DAWES, was agreed to, referring the whole matter of the contested seat from the Twenty-first District, Pennsylvania, to the Committee on Elections, with instructions to report which of the two claimants has a prima facie right to the seat.

On motion of Mr. SCHOFIELD, the time for taking testimony in the contested election case of Taylor against Reading, from the Fifth District of Pennsylvania, was extended sixty days.

Mr. SCHENCK, from joint Committee appointed to wait on the President, reported the Committee had performed that duty, and the President had informed the Committee he had about two hours previously, anticipating the Senate would be in session, sent some nominations to that body, but he had no message to send to Congress.

Mr. FARNSWORTH moved that Messrs. Clift, Tift, Edwards, Gove, Price and Young be sworn in as Representatives from Georgia, the Sixth District being vacant.

From the statement made in support of the motion, it appeared that these persons were elected at the same time for both the last Congress and the present one.

Mr. WARD suggested that the whole matter be referred to the Committee on Elections, with instructions to inquire whether or not Georgia was entitled to representation at all.

After much debate the resolution was modified and adopted, referring the question to the Committee on Elections.

On motion of Mr. FERRIS, the House proceeded to complete its organization by the election of a Clerk, Doorkeeper, Sergeant-at-Arms, Chaplain and Postmaster.

Mr. WARD nominated, for Clerk, Edward McPherson, of Pennsylvania, the Clerk of the last House.

Mr. NIBLACK nominated Charles W. Carrigan, of Pennsylvania.

Mr. BROOKS, having been appointed one of the tellers, asked to be excused, saying he did not want to have anything to do with the election of Clerk.

The result of the vote was, for Edward McPherson, 128; Charles W. Carrigan, 59.

Mr. WARD nominated N. G. Ordway, of N. H., for Sergeant-at-Arms.

Mr. MUNGEN nominated Owen Thorne, of the District of Columbia.

The vote resulted: Ordway 121, Thorne 55.

Mr. Ordway was declared duly elected and the oath administered by the Speaker.

Otis S. Burton, of N. Y., was elected Doorkeeper, having received 124 votes against 54 for David J. Waggoner, of Ills., and Wm. S. King was elected Postmaster, having received 120 votes against 56 for William Lewis, of N. Y.

The officers elected held the same positions under the last House.

On motion of Mr. JUDD, the election of Chaplain, was postponed until next Thursday.

The usual method of drawing for seats was adopted, and having been carried into effect, the House at 4:40 adjourned till Tuesday.

Advices from Cuba.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

HAVANA, March 5.—The weather is unfavorable for sugar grinding.

From Cienfuegos and vicinity news is more favorable to the Government.

At Santiago the cholera is abating. Several bands of insurgents are operating in that district.

HAVANA, March 5.—The Treasury Department advertises for proposals from ship owners to furnish transportation for three hundred and fifteen political prisoners to Fernando Po. There is profound sorrow among the friends and relatives of the prisoners, many of whom belong to the first families of the Island; but the measure is excusable, when it is considered their transportation will save them from dangers like those by which they were threatened on Sunday last, when the volunteers demanded their lives. General Dulce has ordered their removal in consequence of the intense pressure brought to bear upon him by the ultra Spaniards. It is confidently expected, however, that the home government will authorize the release of a majority of them soon after their arrival at Fernando Po.

The Diario has the following news from the Interior: In the Eastern Department the insurgents in considerable numbers have concentrated at Mayari. Troops have marched from Santiago to disperse them. In the Central Department an engagement took place between the governmeni forces and insurgents near Santo Espiritu. Nineteen rebels were taken prisoners, twelve killed and many wounded. Government loss not given. Large numbers of insurgents are reported in the vicinity of Cienfuegos and the roads are blockaded by them. No sugar is coming in at Cienfuegos. All loyal citizens in the Sagua district have been compelled to abandon their houses in consequence of the depredations of the insurgents.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, March 5.—The Commercial List says the Government examiner, appointed to examine into the affairs of the Fourth National Bank, which suspended on the 23d ult., reports its whole capital stock of $250,000 has disappeared; but depositors will secure all their money. The defaulting cashier has vanished, on learning a warrant was out for his arrest. The charter of the institution has been purchased by a number of Philadelphia gentlemen, headed by John Austin, late President of the Southwark National Bank, who have subscribed the new capital and will attempt to reorganize the concern.

GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, March 5.—In the House of Commons this evening Mr. Hadfield asked if the government intended to take any steps in the direction of ocean penny postage. The Marquis of Hartington, Postmaster General, replied that for the present the contracts entered into between the Postoffice Department and various Atlantic steamship companies would interfere with the proposed modification in the rates of ocean postage.

New York Railroad War—Serious Emute Between the Erie and Northern Central Companies.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ELMIRA, N. Y., March 5.—What looks like a pretty serious war has broken out between the Erie and Northern Central Railroads. The Northern Central uses the Erie track through and on each side of this city. Last evening orders were received by Division Superintendent Pratt, of the Erie, to allow no trains on the Northern Central to come on to the Erie track, thus cutting off the Northern Central from its connections north. The switches were accordingly spiked and all passage of Northern Central trains stopped in either direction. No reasons were assigned for this extraordinary procedure. It is surmised the trouble grows out of a hitch between the two companies about the possession of the Fort Wayne Railroad as a connection to Chicago. The difficulty still continues and no trains are passing on the Northern Central.

An injunction was granted this afternoon to prevent the Erie from obstructing the passage of the Northern Central trains, but as yet no change has occurred in the situation. The leading officers and directors of the two roads have been in consultation this afternoon to effect a settlement. A train on the Northern Central, with four hundred passengers from Washington, arrived at the break this afternoon, about a mile below the city, but could go no farther. They were obliged to take the Erie train, repay their fare and get home by such a round-about manner as was open to them. The traveling public is suffering very great inconvenience.

Serious Fire in Chicago—Four Firemen Perish.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHICAGO, March 5.—Early this evening a calamitous fire occurred in building 41 to 47 Canal street inclusive. Eleven men were on the roof when it gave way, four of whom, firemen named Charles Wiett, George Bergh, Thomas O'Brien and Peter Moritta, were killed. The other seven escaped or were rescued.

The building was eighty-four by one hundred and fifty feet in dimensions, occupied as a machine shop, planing mill, etc., was owned by Wisdom & Lee, and valued at $40,000. Their loss is fully $50,000, and the total pecuniary loss will exceed $75,000. Some of the men when the roof fell hung to the wall and were rescued, while one, Thomas Maxwell, in falling caught the hose that also lapped over, drew himself up by it over the wall and was saved, though much scorched. None of the bodies were recovered, all falling into the burning ruins. The fire is yet raging, near midnight.

St. Louis Affairs—German Editor Killed—Lindell Hotel Company.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

It is said that the erection of the hotel has been decided upon and that it is to be built on Washington avenue, between Eleventh and Twelfth streets, fronting three hundred feet on Washington avenue and Charles street, and two hundred feet on Twelfth street. The cost is to be nine hundred thousand dollars.

Hudson Closed with Ice—The Press and the Cabinet Appointments—American Bible Society.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, March 5, 1869.

The Hudson river is again closed by ice. The weather is extremely cold, and steamboats have ceased running.

The Post, speaking of the inaugural, says: "Grant's sentences and paragraphs all hit their mark. He does not mean to quarrel with Congress, but neither does he mean to be its creature." It commends the inaugural warmly. Speaking of the cabinet, the Post says: "It is by no means such a one as the experienced politician, with a strong party attachment, would have appointed. This is to be regarded as a recommendation." The Post generally commends the cabinet individually, though saying Mr. Washburne will have to be on his guard against a certain haste of temper with which he is charged. It is understood among Mr. Stewart's friends that he accepts his appointment.

The Telegram recognizes in the Cabinet the indomitable will of Grant, and individually and collectively represents only Grant and his views.

The Commercial speaks highly of each member of the Cabinet.

A Washington special to the Commercial says: Politicians are disappointed in the Cabinet. The opinion prevails, however, that Grant selected a Cabinet for their fitness, and that they all enjoy his personal esteem and confidence, and it is urged as an advantage that none of them have political friends or enemies to reward or punish; that nominations for subordinate positions will be influenced solely by capacity and integrity. The same correspondent says a gentleman was informed by the President that he would tolerate no idleness in any department of the Government, and that the people were too poor to pay salaries as mere bonuses to professional politicians.

The American Bible Society have recently reorganized fourteen new auxiliaries, and granted over twenty-three thousand books. At a meeting this week fifty-five thousand dollars were appropriated for work abroad.

Georgia Republican Convention.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ATLANTA, March 5.—At the State Republican Convention 104 counties were represented by 238 delegates—201 whites and 37 colored. The Convention was called to order by Foster Blodgett. Judge Dunning, of Atlanta, was appointed temporary President, and Benjamin Cooley elected permanent President. The Convention is very harmonious. A preamble and resolutions were adopted, setting forth the failure to comply with the reconstruction acts in the re-organization of the Legislature and requesting Congress to re-organize the Legislature, re-seat the colored members and establish a loyal government. The Convention unanimously endorsed the course of the Governor and the inaugural address of Grant, and appointed a committee to proceed to Washington. The resolutions adopted denounce the Legislature for the expulsion of colored members, which is termed a violation of the Constitution of the State and principles of the reconstruction laws; recommend the reassembling of the Constitutional Convention; propose the exclusion of certain parties engaged in the rebellion, who they claim to be ineligible under the fourteenth amendment, and to substitute in their place the ejected negroes; and demand the enfranchisement of the negro race. A resolution denouncing Gen. Meade's administration was tabled.

Louisiana Legislature—Adjournment.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW ORLEANS, March 5.—The Legislature adjourned sine die last night. Among its last acts was the adoption of a joint resolution endorsing Gen. Grant's inaugural, and the passage of the General Appropriation bill, which makes a special provision for the payment of interest on both the six and eight per cent. levee bonds. The five million levee bond bill, which passed the House a few days since, failed to reach the Senate. The Governor has signed the joint resolution authorizing the Governor and Treasurer to negotiate loans by pledging State bonds, whenever deemed necessary, to meet the payment of interest; also the bill authorizing the city of New Orleans to issue five millions of gold bonds, three millions to be exchanged for outstanding city currency, and the balance to cancel the present indebtedness. The bill providing for State revenue contains a clause licensing gambling houses on payment of $5,000.

Cabinet at Chicago.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHICAGO, March 5.—Grant's Cabinet is the topic of universal conversation in this city. Its composition, when first made public, excited great surprise, but the appointments, as a whole, are quite favorably received, that of Stewart especially so. Everybody had supposed Washburne was booked for the French Mission. Many Republicans express disappointment at Wilson, of Iowa, being left out in the cold. There is a general inquiry as to who Adolph Borie is, he having never been heard of before, and no one is wise enough to answer the question. Washburne's appointment as Secretary of State is construed here to mean plain and decisive dealing with England in regard to the Alabama claims and breach of national obligations.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

PRINCESS ANNE, Md., March 5.—Four negroes, William Wilson, Frank Rounds, William Wells and George Bailey, were hanged here to-day for the murder of B. F. Johnson and Henry Cannon, Captain and Mate of an oyster sloop, in March, 1868. Each prisoner confessed his guilt. Rounds and Wells died instantly and Bailey in a few seconds. Wilson's neck did not break; he groaned and struggled horribly; he got the rope off his hands and legs and caught hold of the shroud of Rounds, and then of his own rope, by which he drew himself up on the scaffold again. The jailor ascended and tightened the noose and again pushed the wretched man off, jerking the rope violently as he fell. The prisoner continued to struggle for five minutes, some of the crowd yelling "that's right; you ought to suffer." The execution occupied forty five minutes. Four or five thousand spectators were present.

TEMPERANCE BALLAD.

[Mr. E. W. LOCKE, the author of the following touching ballad, is accustomed to accompany his temperance lectures (one of which is announced for next Sabbath afternoon, at three o'clock, in the First Methodist Church, East Common, Allegheny,) with songs which are altogether of his own composition. It will be seen that he has the soul of poetry as well as of philanthropy in him, and we have had opportunity to ascertain that the soul of genuine, original melody is not wanting. His own rendering of his pieces is singularly striking. The poetry below is protected by copy right.—GAZETTE.]

HAS FATHER BEEN HERE?

BY E. W. LOCKE.

"Please, Mister Bar-keeper, has father been here?
He's not been at home for the day,
'Tis now almost midnight, mother's in fear,
Some accident keeps him away."
"No, no, little stranger—or yes, he's been here,
Some officers took him away;
He's gone to the lock-up. I'm sorry my dear;
He's done something, they say."

CHORUS.

Oh, 'twas not my father who did the bad deed,
'Twas drinking that maddened his brain.
Oh! let him go home to dear mother I plead,
I'm sure he'll not touch it again.

"Please, Mister Policeman, my father is lost,
A man says you took him away.
Oh! can't he go home, sir, and what will it cost
If mother will send you the pay?"
"Oh! no, little pleader, your father can't go,
We put him in prison to-day.
Go home to your mother and quick let her know
What's keeping your father away."

"Please, sir, Mister Jailor, please let me go in,
They say that my father is inside,
I scarcely can tell how unhappy we've been,
We could not feel worse had he died;
Please, sir, it was drinking that made him do wrong,
I'm sure, sir, he will drink no more,
Oh! just a few minutes, a minute's not long,"
But no one would open the door.

All day the young watcher stood fast by the door,
In vain with his father to speak.
It creaked on its hinges twice ten times or more,
As prison doors only can creak;
Then speeding thro' darkness to home, sad as death,
A promise most solemn he bore,
Dear mother, I'll shun it as long as I've breath,
I'll taste it, and touch it no more.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

The furor created at Washington City, by the preparation for the Inauguration ceremonies, completely overshadowed everything else at the capital. The dedication of the Metropolitan Memorial Methodist Episcopal Church, in that city, just previous to the inauguration of President Grant, however, is an event of no ordinary occurrence, from the fact, not only of the grandeur of the edifice, but because of its being the first decided success in providing a church structure of a national type. The lot is 75 by 115, on the corner of C and Four-and-a-half streets. The edifice is of brown stone, and Gothicish in type. It will accommodate twelve hundred persons comfortably with seats. The building is finished inside and outside in the most approved style. The enormous organ, costing fifteen thousand dollars, silver communion service, and articles for the services, are the gift of friends. The relics in the beautiful edifice are appropriate and interesting, and neither awaken sentiments of superstition or idolatry. They consist simply of stones from the foundation of Solomon's Temple, which has been wrought into the key-stone of the arch in the rear and over the pulpit; the panels of the pulpit, made from wood taken from the Garden of Gethsemane; the pillars of the pulpit inwrought with the cedar of Lebanon; and pieces of wood from the Mount of Olives inserted in the center of the posts and panneling of the altar. When the tower and spire are completed, two hundred and forty feet from the pavement, and a chime of bells are erected, the aggregate cost of the church will be one quarter of a million of dollars. This sum has all been received, except, perhaps, twenty thousand dollars. Pews are provided for the President and his Cabinet, for judges, chiefs of the army and navy, and one or more seats are set apart to each State in the Union, so that strangers from any State may always feel at home and have a right to the sittings in their State pews. The dedication ceremonies last Sunday were imposing and impressive. Bishop Simpson preached in the morning, Rev. W. Morley Punshon in the afternoon, and Dr. T. M. Eddy, of Chicago, in the evening. A great number of dignataries were present, including President Grant and Vice President Colfax, Chief Justice Chase. Grant and Chase are Trustees, who contributed liberally on the occasion. Rev. F. S. De Hass, the pastor, is entitled to great credit for the success of this undertaking, and it is monumental of his untiring industry. Mr. De Hass was formerly pastor of a Methodist Episcopal church in this city, and is well known in this community.

A correspondent of the Independent, a communicant of the Protestant Episcopal Church, reports that a new organization is soon to be put in operation by those in hat church opposed to the High Church party. He says "such a Church will be born in a day not far off."

The First Baptist Church of Newport—now over two hundred years old—asked the Rhode Island Legislature for a charter constituting its male members a corporation for the holding of church property and for other purposes. The petition was referred to the proper committee of the House of Representatives, who recommended that it be granted with the alteration of the word "males" to "persons," so as to include both sexes in the corporation. Final action was delayed to consult the petitioners; and it was ascertained that unless they could have the charter as they petitioned for, they did not wish for any charter at all. The petitioners also sought to withdraw, but the House refused to grant their request and passed the charter with the word "persons" instead of "males." Another triumph for female rights!

The General Conference of the United Brethren in Christ will meet May 20th, in Lebanon, Pa. The question of Lay representation is now agitating that denomination, and will form one of the leading features in the discussion of the General Conference. The abolition of the presiding eldership is also agitated to a considerable extent.

The Banner says the J. F. McLaren, D.D., formerly of this city, is preaching regularly in the vicinity of Detroit, where he now resides.

During the latter part of December, delegates from a number of African Baptist churches met at Montgomery, Alabama, and organized the Alabama Convention of Colored Baptist churches—the first body of the kind ever existing in the State.

A bill has been introduced into the New York Legislature to incorporate the Free Will Baptist Union, with its Central office in New York city. The Church Union thinks the strict communion Baptists, in justice to themselves, ought to take other papers, such as the Morning Star, besides their own, in order to study both sides of the communion question.

It is announced that the free seat plan, recently adopted by the Calvary Baptist church, of Philadelphia, promises to double its revenue.

Much has been written for and against choirs, and just at this time the subject is discussed with a good deal of warmth by religious journals. The American Christian Review reduces the whole matter to a syllogysm, and disposes of it in the following style: 1. "Whatever destroys an ordinance of God is SINFUL, and belongs consequently to the category of principle, and not of expediency." 2. "Instrumental music destroys congregational singing, which is an ordinance of God." 3. "Therefore, instrumental music is SINFUL and belongs to the category of principle, and not of expediency." The Christian Intelligencer decidedly objects to the second, or main proposition, for if instrumental music destroys congregational singing, it says it can not reconcile the vision which John beheld of the heavenly orchestra, or those harpers harping on their harps, are in the way of the conclusion to which the Christian Review arrives.

The Church Journal thinks that the Roman Catholics are losing ground in this country, and that the "Methodists will pursue the usual career of dissent, and become Unitarians."

Many will be surprised to hear that Dr. Bellows, the eminent Unitarian minister, author and lecturer, talks sometimes more like a Presbyterian than a Unitarian, and his conversion at any time would be no surprise to many who know him.

For the benefit of the thousands who indulge in the weed, we give the antidote of the celebrated anti-tobacconist, Rev. George Trask, of Massachusetts, as follows: "Resolution, gentian root and the grace of God, in due proportions." A reliable exchange says there is no doubt of its efficacy.

THE MYSTERIOUS ORGANIST.

A Legend of the Rhine.

Years ago at the grand cathedral overlooking the Rhine there appeared a distinguished organist. The great composer who had played the organ so long had suddenly died, and everybody, from the king to the peasant, was wondering who could be found to fill his place, when one bright Sabbath morning as the sexton entered the church, he saw a stranger sitting by the crape-shrouded organ. He was a tall, graceful man, with a pale, but strikingly handsome face, great, black, melancholy eyes, and hair like a raven's wing for gloss and color, sweeping in dark waves over his shoulders. He did not seem to notice the sexton, but went on playing, and such music he drew from the instrument no words of mine can describe. The astonished listener declared that the organ seemed to have grown human—that it wailed and sighed and clamored as if a tortured human heart were throbbing through its pipes.

When the music at last ceased the sexton hastened to the stranger and asked:

"Pray, who are you, sir?"

"Do not ask my name," he replied; "I have heard that you were in want of an organist, and I have come here on trial."

"You'll be sure to get the place," exclaimed the sexton. "Why, you surpass him that's dead and gone."

"No, no, you overrate me," said the stranger, with a smile; then, as if disinclined to conversation, he turned from old Hans, and began to play again, and now the music changed from a sorrowful strain to a grand old pæan, and the mysterious old organist—

Looking upward full of grace
Plays still from a happy place—
God's glory smote him in the face.

and his countenance seemed not unlike that of St. Michael, as portrayed by Guido.

Lost in the melodies which swelled around him, he sat with his "far-seeing" eyes fixed on the distant sky, a glimpse of which he caught through an open window, when there was a stir about the church door and a royal party came sweeping in. Among them might be seen a bright young girl, with a wealth of golden hair, like the violet's hue, and lips like wild cherries. This was the Princes Elizabeth, and all eyes were turned towards her as she seated herself in the velvet cushioned pew appropriated to the court. The mysterious organist fixed his eye upon her and went on playing. No sooner had the music reached her ears than she started as if a ghost had crossed her path. The blood faded from her crimson cheek, her lips quivered, and her whole frame grew tremulous. At last her eyes met those of the organist in a long yearning look, and the melody lost its joyous notes and once more wailed and sighed and clamored.

"By faith," whispered the King to his daughter, "this organist has a masterhand. Hark ye, he shall play at your wedding."

The pale lips of the princess parted, but she could not speak—she was dumb with grief. Like one in a painful dream, she saw the pale man at the organ and heard the melody which filled the vast edifice. Ay, full well she knew who it was, and why the instrument seemed breathing out the agony of a tormented heart.

When the services were over and the royal party had left the cathedral, he stole away as mysteriously as he had come. He was not seen again by the sexton till the vesper hour, and then he appeared in the organ loft and commenced his task. While he played a veiled figure glided in and knelt near a shrine. There she remained until the worshippers disappeared, when the sexton touched her on the shoulder and said:

"Madame, everybody has gone but you and me, and I wish to close the door."

"I am not ready to go yet," was the reply; "leave me—leave me!"

The sexton drew back into a shady niche, and watched and listened. The mysterious organist still kept his post, but his head was bowed upon the instrument, and he could not see the lone devotee. At length she rose from the aisle, and moving to the organ loft paused beside the organist.

"Bertram!" she murmured.

Quick as thought the organist raised his head. There, with the light of a lamp suspended to the arch above falling full upon her, stood the Princess who had graced the royal pew that day. The court dress of velvet, with its ermine trimmings, the tiara, the necklace, the bracelets, had been exchanged for a gray serge robe and a thick veil which was now pushed back from the fair, girlish face.

"Why are you here, Bertram?" asked the Princess.

"I came to bid you farewell; and as I dared not venture into the palace, I gained access to the cathedral by bribing the bell-ringer, and having taken the seat of the dead organist, let my music breathe out the adieu I could not trust my lips to utter."

A low moan was the only answer, and he continued:

"You are to be married on the morrow?"

"Yes," sobbed the girl. "Oh! Bertram, what a trial it will be to stand at yonder altar, and take upon me the vows which will doom me to a living death."

"Think of me," rejoined the organist. "Your royal father has requested me to play at the wedding, and I have promised to be here. If I were your equal I could be the bridegroom instead of the organist; but a poor musician must give you up."

"It is like rending my soul and body asunder to part with you," said the girl. "To-night I may tell you this—tell you how fondly I love you, but in a few hours it will be a sin! Go, go, and God bless you."

She waved him from her, as if she would banish him while she had the power to do so, and he—how was it with him! He arose to leave her, then came back, held her to his heart in a long embrace, and, with a half smothered farewell, left her.

The next morning dawned in cloudless splendor. At an eaely hour the cathedral was thrown open, and the sexton began to prepare for the wedding. Flame colored flowers nodded by the wayside—flame colored leaves came dashing down the trees and lay in heaps upon the ground; and the ripe wheat waved like a golden sea, and berries drooped in red and purple clusters over the rocks along the Rhine.

At length the palace gates were opened and the royal party appeared, escorting the Princess Elizabeth to the cathedral, where the marriage was to be solemnized.

It was a bright pageant—far brighter than the entwined foliage and blossoms where the tufts of plumes which floated from stately heads and festal robes that streamed down over the housings of the superb steeds. But the Princess, mounted on a snowy palfrey, and clad in snow-white velvet, looked pale and sad; and when, on nearing the church, she heard a gush of organ music, which, though jubilant in sound, struck on her ear like a funeral knell—she trembled and would have fallen to the earth, had not a page supported her. A few minutes afterwards she entered the cathedral. There, with retinue, stood the royal bridegroom, whom she had never before seen. But her glance roved from him to the organ-loft, where she had expected that mysterious organist. He was gone, and she was obliged to return the graceful bow of the King, to whom she had been betrothed from motives of policy. Mechanically she knelt at his side on the altar-stone; mechanically listened to the services and made the responses.

Then her husband drew her to him in a convulsive embrace, and whisped:

"Elizabeth, my queen, my wife, look up."

Trembling in every limb, she obeyed. Why do those eyes thrill her so? Why did that smile bring a glow on her cheeks?

Ah! though the King wore the royal purple and many a jeweled order glittered on his breast, he seemed the humble person, who had been employed to teach organ music, and had taught her the lore of love.

"Elizabeth," murmured the monarch, "Bertram Hoffman, the mysterious organist, and King Oscar (the Royal Freemason) are one. Forgive my strategem. I wished to marry you, but I would not drag to the altar an unwilling bride. Your father was in the secret.

While tears of joy rained from her blue eyes, the new-made queen returned her husband's fond kisses, and for once two hearts were made happy by a royal marriage.

A SINGULAR instance of the absurdities of charitable bequests is furnished in London, where some hundred years ago some good old soul left a house and garden in the city as a perpetual maintenance for three poor women and a cat. The property is now worth £40,000 a year. Three poor women and their cat—friends of the trustees—are maintained; and the rest of the income, £39,650 per annum, is expended in salaries on uncles, aunts, cousins, appointed as secretaries, treasurers, chaplains, visitors, etc., who see to the proper distribution of alms, catechise the old women and stroke the cat.

THE amount of United States bonds held by citizens of Lubeck, mostly men of small means, is so large that one banking house in that city receives, every six months, upwards of seventy-five thousand dollars' worth of United States coupons.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, March 5, 1869.

The general markets continue very quiet, and devoid of anything that is really new or important. There seems however, to be a more cheerful feeling in commercial circles, since the inauguration, and with a conviction that the financial affairs of the country will be improved, business men entertain hopes that trade generally will loom up, and that the dullness and depression which has so long prevailed, will be succeeded by better times. Already government bonds have appreciated in value, giving unmistakable evidence that the government credit is improving, and under the new administration, there is every prospect of better times in the future.

RIVER NEWS.

The weather continues unusually cold, particularly for this season of the year; the mercury at seven o'clock A. M. yesterday was down to eight degrees above zero, and at no time during the day did it get above twenty-five. The river continues to recede slowly with four feet three inches in the channel by the Monongahela marks.

There has been no arrivals since the date of our last report, and the Kenton for Portsmouth, and Bayard for Parkersburg, were the only departures.

The Grey Eagle, Capt. C. L. Brennan, is the regular packet for Parkersburg to-day, leaving promptly at noon.

The following boats are loading for the points named and will depart as soon as there is a rise: R. C. Gray, for Cincinnati and Louisville; Camelia for Nashville; Bellevernon for New Orleans; Maggie Hays for St. Louis; Messenger and Sallie for Missouri River; and Savanna for Upper Mississippi.

The funeral of the late Capt. A. C. McCallum, Sr., took place yesterday, and although not present, we have no doubt it was largely attended. Thus is added another to the large list of steamboatmen who have departed this life recently.

Capt. Dawson, who bought the Petrolia the other day, contemplates running her as a regular packet between Wellsville and Steubenville.

—The Stonewall has been withdrawn from the Red river trade, and was to leave New Orleans last Saturday for St. Louis, to take her place in the "O" Line.

—The New State, being rebuilt at Parkersburg, is rapidly assuming the form and substance of a steamer again. Her new engines are partially set, and the frame-work of the cabin is nearly inclosed.

—The Glasgow and New York were advertised to leave Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Thursday. The latter boat would have left on Wednesday, had it not been for the Armadillo tearing off her fantail in backing out on Tuesday night.

—The following are the steamboat disasters during February: Lexington, Falls City, Mary Bird, Eddie, Mittie Stephens, Fairy Queen and Peoria City. Of the above, the Falls City and Mary Bird were raised. Boats injured: Robert Moore and Glendale.

—Memphis papers say that large quantities of flour are now being received at that port; almost every boat from above brings a few hundred barrels. The average receipts for the past week will run over 1,000 barrels. The greater part of it goes up the White and Arkansas.

—The Vicksburg Times, speaking of the big trips of cotton taken to New Orleans this season, says the three largest loads were taken by the R. E. Lee, Magenta and Mississippi. The latter on December 8th landed 4,113 bales, the Magenta on December 1st, 4,028 bales, and the Lee, October 1st, 3,784.

—The Cincinnati Gazette, of Thursday says: The Kate Putnam, Nashville to Pittsburgh, passed up, after discharging here a lot of cotton, which she took at fifty cents per bale to prevent the Emma Floyd from getting it. She has for Pittsburgh 1,650 sacks corn, 40 tuns metal, 180 sacks corn meal, 100 sack dried peaches, 100 sacks peanuts and 1,000 cedar posts. Pilots, Robert Greenlee and Thomas King.

—The New Orleans Times, says: It is asserted, and we believe with truth, that not a single steamboat has been lost upon Red river above the raft for the last two years; and yet the Board of Underwriters have fixed the rate of insurance of 6½ per cent. A rate so enormous would almost cover navigation on the rivers Styx and Cocytus to Hades and a market. If we hope for prosperity these restrictions must be throttled.

—The following are the recent transfers at St. Louis:

Barge Yellow Stone, on the 12th of February, 1869, Jacob Conard sells to Branch, Crooks & Co., for $5,000.

Steamer Galatea—February 20th, 1869. Giles S. Congdon to S. O. Heminway, for $2,500

Steamer Huntsville—February 22, 1869. John W. Jacobs half the interest, David L. Penny, half interest, to G. G. Russell, for $6,750.

—St. Louis advices under date of Wednesday report as follows: The Shamrock brought a full freight and about 150 passengers, mostly emigrants for Missouri. A large number of them ship on the Mountaineer. The aggregate amount of orders brought to St. Louis merchants by the steamer Rubicon last year, from points between Memphis and Vicksburg, was $426,000, instead of $226,000, as reported last night. Captain Bofinger will start the Antelope to Fort Benton March 13, and at intervals of five days thereafter the H. M. Shreve, Utah, Tempest, Ida, Henry Adkins, St. Joseph, Colorado, Clarksville, Thos. H. Allen and Lacon.

Freghts to New Orleans advanced yesterday to 40c for flour, 60c for pork, 25c per sack for corn and heavy pound freight, and 35c per sack for oats, but today they broke down to 30c for flour as the ruling rate, but boats were taking whatever they could get.

Navigation is again resumed on the Upper Mississipp, Illinois and Missouri, and in a day or two longer business will be brisk again. Snow has fallen all day, but the temperature has been mild enough to melt it nearly as fast as it fell. It has cleared off to-night, and is freezing slightly.

THE CABINET.

Secretary of State—E. B. WASHBURNE, of Illinois.

Secretary of Treasury—A. T. STEWART, of New York.

Secretary of Navy—ADOLPH E. BORIE, of Pennsylvania.

Secretary of Interior—J. D. COX, of Ohio.

Postmaster General—JOHN J. A. CRESSWELL, of Maryland.

Attorney General—E. B. HOAR, of Massachusetts.

No nomination has been made for Secretary of War. General SCHOFIELD will hold over till his successor be designated.

J. W. SHERMAN has been made General of the Army; PHILIP H. SHERIDAN, Lieutenant General, John SCHOFIELD, Major General; and C. C. AUGUR, Brigadier General. These promotions will content both the army and the people.

MR. SUMNER has entered upon his fourth full term in the Senate, having served more years in it than any other member. Mr. CAMERON was in the Senate some years before Mr. SUMNER, but has been out of it at two periods, so that he has served a less number of years.

THE absurd amendment, by the last House, to the Senate joint resolution expressing our sympathy with Liberalism in Spain, was intended as a "mere pleasantry," the yeas and nays not being called. It was a miserable effort to perpetrate a mischievous joke, which will not be very speedily repeated.

THE Post does not like President GRANT'S inaugural; especially its genuine Democracy in advocating the right of suffrage for all adult male citizens, and its sterling honesty in condemning the proposition to pay the national bonds in irredeemable greenbacks. We are not surprised; and think it none the worse for the President.

LATE ADVICES from Gen. SHERIDAN report a general movement of the hostile remnants of broken Indian tribes, numbering in all about one thousand warriors, toward the extreme southwest. The troops are following them from various directions, with intent to close in upon them at some common centre, and compel a surrender and "submission to a settlement on their reservations, on the terms proposed by Government."

ANOTHER of the "War Governors" has been taken away. ANDREW, BROUGH and TOD gave a splendid expression of the loyalty of Massachusetts and Ohio throughout the conflict, and earned for themselves a world-wide renown. As Governor of Minnesota, for nearly a year in 1863, HENRY A. SWIFT, a native of Ohio, succeeded to its Executive Chair to Gov. RAMSEY, who had been chosen to the United States Senate. This period, brief as it was, covered the crisis of the great conflict, and Minnesota has ever been proud of the energy, capacity and fidelity with which Gov. SWIFT directed her part in the work of loyalty and liberty. His death recently, at the early age of 47, elicits from the Minnesota press, without political distinctions, the highest tributes to the purity and ability of his character and the efficiency of his official services.

IT WILL BE REMEMBERED that many years ago South Carolina passed a law to imprison all colored persons who should go into that State from outside. Mr. HOAR, of Concord, Mass., distinguished for high personal character and professional attainments, was appointed a Commissioner by that State to proceed to Charleston and institute a suit in the Federal Courts to test the constitutionality of that law. He was driven out, together with his daughters, who accompanied him.

Mr. E. B. HOAR, the new Attorney General, is a son of Mr. Commissioner HOAR. In early life, he was a teacher of a Ladies' Seminary in this city, and his short stay here ripened friendships that have lasted to the present time. He returned to Massachusetts, and entered upon the profession of the law, acquiring a valuable practice, afterwards taking a seat upon the bench of the Supreme Court, which he held up to the moment of his appointment as Attorney General.

Mr. HOAR came back to Pittsburgh after his return to his native State. This was as a delegate to the Convention that made the original organization of the Republican party. Following the traditions of his family, which had been strengthened by his own reflections, he was unalterably opposed to the encroachments of slavery. Nor has he failed, since that early day, in his devotion to the principles of that organization.

THE CABINET.

The gentlemen selected by President GRANT as chiefs of the Departments, are each of eminent personal respectability. Each has attained marked success in the sphere in which he elected to move. Mr. WASHBURNE is the only one among them who has had considerable political experience. He has been in the House of Representatives longer than any member now sitting there, and has not only succeeded in retaining the confidence of his constituents, but has earned a high reputation throughout the country. Mr. Cox served with distinction in the army, and was afterwards made Governor of Ohio, which place he held for only one term. Mr. CRESSWELL, in addition to some State experience, was in the United States Senate for two or three years, to fill out the term for which Mr. HICKS was chosen. Mr. SCHOFIELD belongs to the regular army, and has administered the affairs of the War Office with decided ability for some months past. The common expectation is that he will return to his place in the army in the course of a few weeks; but this may not be. Mr. STEWART has achieved wonderful success as a merchant, in which capacity he has evinced an order of ability unsurpassed in this country, or any other. The success with which he has conducted his own finances gives assurance of his competency to manage the income and disbursements of the government. Mr. BORIE made a large fortune, and much personal reputation, as a merchant of Philadelphia; and then retired from active business. Mr. HOAR is a jurist of considerable distinction in Massachusetts.

However worthy each of these gentlemen may be personally, or however well qualified to direct the affairs of the respective Departments over which they have been called to preside, it may safely be inferred that on the whole, the Cabinet is not adapted to meet the tastes and wishes of that class known as politicians. Perhaps it will on that account give the greater satisfaction to the masses of the people.

Comparatively few Republicans even of the entire mass have any other favor to ask of the President and his constitutional advisers, than an upright, firm and energetic administration of the government in accordance with the laws, and for the highest good of the whole people. At the recent election the Republican principles were broadly proclaimed, and admirably enforced. Those principles were endorsed at the ballot-box, and Republicans confidently expect to see them carried out by their chosen agents in the high places of the Government. Beyond this, on all questions relating to the distribution of patronage and the like, they are measurably, if not altogether indifferent. In the Cabinet appointments, they will see nothing to impair their confidence in the man their suffrages elevated to the Presidency, but much to confirm it.

AUSPICIOUS PROMISES.

In May last, Gen. GRANT was placed in nomination for the Presidency by a Convention politically representing, it was believed, a majority of his countrymen. The same body, at the same time, declared the leading principles upon which his election would be advocated. In due time, the nominee announced his acceptance of the position, and "endorsed the resolutions" in which these principles were embodied. Pledging himself to execute the laws and to respect the will of the people, "with the view of giving peace, quiet and protection everywhere," and declaring again that "peace and prosperity with economy would lighten taxation," he closed with a marked reiteration in that memorable invocation, "Let us have peace!"

Of the fourteen resolutions of the Chicago platform, one was an indictment of the then Acting President, and one was a tribute of honor to the soldiers who had fought our battles and won back for us our menaced liberty. It is not to be expected that ULYSSES S. GRANT would dwell upon the one, or reiterate the other. Of the remaining twelve, six words briefly comprehend their essence: Honesty, Equality, Liberty, Fraternity. Magnanimity and Dignity. These embody the whole National duty, whether in our domestic or foreign policy, whether dealing with individuals or with nations.

Now, mark the exact fidelity with which our candidate, whom we elected in November, and who formally assumed on Thursday his official trust, has adhered, in every public utterance, from that day to this hour, to the just copy of the platform he then endorsed. His first official declaration, the Inaugural Address, redeems the promises of the HAWLEY letter, and is itself but the paraphrase of the Chicago Catechism of Republican faith. The Inaugural repeats with emphatic distinctness every principle in that platform but one. And when the new President did not make his official proclamation of "sympathy with all oppressed peoples struggling for their rights" the propriety of the discrimination—which forbade what would have been, at that moment, an unseemly and needlessly offensive Executive declaration of Republican propagandism—will command the approbation of all enlightened men. Who doubts, nevertheless, that the President—himself personally so brilliant an example of success, in that self-assertion which the principle of the twelfth Chicago resolution demands alike for people and for individuals—will ever be found administering his high office in the interests of Liberty, Justice and Peace, throughout the world and toward all its peoples?

In his Inaugural, we shall find not one principle declared, not one measure recommended, not one measure of official duty or Executive privilege, which is without its precedent in the Chicago declaration of Republican faith. Nor can the most unfriendly criticism discover in that platform one principle enunciated, or one duty avowed, for which Thursday's Inaugural, with the just exceptions we have noted, does not renew the official pledge of their new President to his countrymen. The platform, the candidate's letter of acceptance, and the President's first Executive utterance are each and all the harmonious parts in one whole, and each so faithful to one common end that either might stand as to-day's expression of the other.

We have had no solicitude for the political consistency of President GRANT. We have not awaited his Inaugural Address to learn where he stands to-day, and for the coming years. We do not read, in his first Executive communication to his countrymen, any new exposition of the best national policy at home or abroad. We do not read the history of the President's future in the light of his inaugural words, but we do read those words in the light of his own and the nation's past—in the light of a personal reputation which no dishonor has ever yet sullied, and of a national experience in which all good fortune clusters around the immutable principles which Appomatox vindicated, which the Chicago Convention proclaimed and which President GRANT long, long ago, accepted for the guiding stars of his administration.

And thus we read the new President's political and official horoscope. There is no mystery in such astrology. No cloudless night reveals more clearly to an untutored eye the bright glory of Ursa Major and the changeless pole star to which that constellation is ever true, than do these lights, of which we have spoken, guide the eyes of forty millions of his countrymen to the inflexible principles and purposes of his Executive policy. The four years to come shall see every law-abiding man, within this Republic, the full equal of every man his neighbor; liberty under the law shall be the indisputable attribute of an universal citizenship, for all men who have souls to save, and whom Heaven shall judge for their lives accordingly; the Golden Rule, which every intelligence accepts as the safest of human guides, shall direct the millions as one man; the nation shall once more re-inaugurate the virtues, and revere the obligations, which alone can win for the individual the approbation of his own conscience, the esteem of his fellow-men and the favor of Heaven; and the Republic shall attain a place yet higher among the nations, since it has twice conquered itself, overthrowing first its armed traitors, and then—a yet harder work—purging out the wickedness of its own rulers.

We have an abiding faith that a glorious apotheosis of Public Virtue and Prosperity awaits the people under the administration of this President. Every art of peace will flourish, because peace itself is to be the keystone of the public policy. We shall have peace at home, and peace abroad. The peace which this man has so steadily invoked was no sham, nor will it be so found. It will not be a peace which seeks foreign wars for a bare punctilio, or for any temptation of aggrandizement. It will be the peace, with God's grace, which passeth the understanding of the foolish or the unprincipled, and which shall smile upon the hearts of an honest people, and bless them in basket and store. With this peace, said our candidate last May, will come universal prosperity as its sequence. We know that this prosperity is all that our country needs. Could we have a more auspicious promise?

"EXTREME CONSTITUTIONAL MEASURES."

The opposition members in each branch of the Indiana Legislature are able to defeat the present ratification of the XVth Amendment, by a simultaneous resignation, thus leaving either House without the constitutional quorum of three-fifths. And this factious course has been resolved upon. The result will be that ratification by Indiana must await the election of a new Legislature; in which the amendment will be made an issue. Whatever doubts may have been hitherto entertained as to its acceptance by the people of that State, the factious and disorganizing tactics now adopted by the opposition leave no doubt whatever that they will find themselves in a still more decided minority.

This Democratic "bolt" in Indiana throws over the final ratification of the amendatory Article by the required number of States until next winter. Nevertheless, it is desirable that every possible State vote should be secured for it now. If the opposition in other States think it safe or wise to adopt the Indiana tactics. the experiment upon the popular patience will prove to them a losing one. As that party is consistent only in its contradictions and its inexplicable blunders, we may expect to see the experiment tried elsewhere.

An opposition journal before us speaks of this Indiana "bolt" as an "extreme constitutional measure." There is nothing constitutional in it, for it is a flagrant violation of the highest duty which the legislator assumes by his Constitutional oath; it is a violent interpolation of partizanship, to block the constitutional functions of the law-making power; it is a revolutionary defiance of the popular authority entrusted to legislators for their exercise, according to their discretion, with an ultimate popular responsibility, and it substitutes the decree of a party caucus for the letter and spirit of the fundamental law. These "extreme constitutional measures" never yet did any good in the long run, and never will. Yet we rejoice that it cannot be resorted to in this Commonwealth, for, as a bare majority in each House constitute a con a constitutional quorum, if all the Democrats should resign, the Houses would still be able to act.

DESERVED RECOGNITION.

The members of the great and powerful Independent Order of Odd Fellows will celebrate on the 26th proximo, in Philadelphia, the semi-centennial anniversary of the establishment of their society on this continent. The occasion promises to prove one of the most interesting connected with the history of Odd Fellowship in America, and will attract delegates and visitors not only from all parts of our country but from foreign lands. The principal feature of the exercises will be a grand civic procession in which some twenty full divisions of the order will participate, forming the most imposing demonstration of Peace ever witnessed in the City of Brotherly Love. General T. A. ROWLEY, United States Marshal for Western Pennsylvania, Grand Marshal of the State Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows, has been very wisely chosen Chief-Marshal, and under his superior management and direction the parade cannot fail to be orderly and precise, and creditable to the noble order under whose auspices it will be held. The high honor thus conferred on one of our justly esteemed and gallant fellow citizens is fully appreciated in this community, and indeed, throughout the entire commonwealth, for no gentleman is more universally known and respected. His universal courtesy, generosity of heart, and high-toned, honorable nature render him as conspicuous in civil as he was in military life, and the present honor conferred upon him could not have been more worthily bestowed or more generally seconded by the public at large.

General ROWLEY has designated Hon. JAMES L. GRAHAM, State Senator, and General R. BIDDLE ROBERTS as his assistants, appointments which must afford unqualified satisfaction to all interested.

DEATH OF HON. CHAS. SHALER.

Hon. CHARLES SHALER, for nearly half a century a resident of this city, and during most of that period a member in high standing of the legal fraternity of Allegheny county, departed this life yesterday at Newark, New Jersey. The deceased filled several important trusts during his lifetime, among them Judge of the Allegheny county District Court, Judge of the Court of Common Pleas, and United States Attorney for the Western District of Pennsylvania. He was senior partner for a number of years with EDWIN M. STANTON and TH. UMBSTAETTER, a legal combination of great strength and influence during its continuance. Several years ago the deceased retired from the profession, and carried with him into private life the respect of all the lawyers in this section, as well as that of the general community. He was a member of the Trinity Episcopal Church and was a high-toned, honorable and conscientious Christian gentleman who has left behind him a record of many good deeds performed in the name of his Master. He had attained the ripe old age of four-score years, and possessed the vigor of his intellect up to the day of his soul's departure. His remains will arrive in this city to-day for interment in the Allegheny Cemetery, and will doubtless be followed to their last resting place by the many friends and admirers who will be pained to receive the announcement of his passing away from life to eternity.

PENNSYLVANIA OIL REGIONS.

From the monthly report of the Titusville Herald, we learn that there were nine thousand seven hundred and sixty-five barrels of oil produced in the Pennsylvania oil regions daily during February—a decrease of four hundred and thirty barrels in comparison with the previous month. The wells at Pleasantville showed a large decrease at the close of the month, and some ten or fifteen had ceased to produce in paying quantities. The average daily production reached one thousand eight hundred barrels, or three hundred and fifty barrels less than that of each day in January. On Church Run and in the vicinity of Titusville, the average daily product for the month was four hundred and eighty barrels. In the Allegheny river district between Franklin and Brady's Bend the daily production reached an average for the month of about six hundred and seventy barrels—a slight increase from January.

The total number of wells completed during the month was sixty-four, and of this number all but four, or one-sixteenth, produced in paying quantities. The average yield was smaller, however, than that of all the wells struck in the previous month, and if the price had been fifty per cent. lower not over three-fourths of the wells tested would have been considered successful.

Of the uumber of wells completed, thirty-five were located in the Pleasantville district, twenty-five along Oil creek, on Upper and Lower Cherry runs, and five on the farms along the Allegheny river. In the extreme north-eastern part of the Pleasantville district, several new wells were commenced and operations were begun on about fifteen others, but in the southern and central parts of the district the demand for leases fell off considerably, and but very few wells were commenced. On the 1st inst. three hundred and thirty-four wells were being bored in this region, four only of which are located outside the Pleasantville district. On Cherrytree run, near Petroleum Centre, several farms have been leased, and preparations are being made to sink about twenty wells during the next three or four months. On Cherry run and vicinity several leases were taken during the month, and the demand for territory was good.

The stock held in the regions was on the first inst., two hundred and eigty-two thousand four hundred and fifty barrels; which included that held at the wells, about eighty thousand barrels.

It is confidently expected that in the Spring, new life will be given the trade. and that sections hitherto neglected, but which are known to be rich in oil deposits, will be thoroughly tested. From the figures presented above, it does not seem apparent that the Pennsylvania oil regions are becoming exhausted, but to the contrary, continue to hold place as the leading oil producing territory of the continent.

WE DON'T reprint what DON PIATT says about GRANT'S reception when he visited the lobby of the House, the other day, because we believe his statement, you know, but because we have some Democratic readers who will. Says D. P.:

When Grant came out I was struck with the manner in which the crowd fell to the right and left, looking earnestly in the General's face, and covering their own with an expression of profound respect, almost amounting to abject humiliation. Ashley alone, with his huge person, broad face and curling locks, seemed easy, comfortable and self-sustained. His amiable face wreathed with smiles, and he seemed to regard Grant very much as a huge turkey gobbler looks down on a bantam game cock of the poultry-yard, as if saying: "Well, yes, very good for a little game cock—very good, indeed, but then he isn't a turkey gobbler, you know."

I must say I prefer Gobbler Ashley's patronizing to the forlorn snobbishness of the abject respect. I took comfort in the fact that my compatriots did it awkwardly. It is not natural, and differs widely from the way courtiers move about Queen Victoria or Louis Napoleon. There is a finished ease about the last named worshippers that covers up and makes agreeable their toadyism. But our American says, through his manner, "I know that I am making an ass of myself, but I have to do it."

Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—Lotta, the most bewitching and charming actress in the profession, in fact the pet of the American stage, was the recipient of a benefit at the Opera House last evening. The house was crowded with a select and highly fashionable audience, and the entertainment was highly pleasing and enjoyable. The bill presented was a most excellent one, as it gave full scope to the versatility and originality of the vivacious little creature. "Capt. Charlotte," "Pocahontas" and "Family Jars" constituted the programme. The same bill will be presented this evening, and for matinee this afternoon "Capt. Charlotte" and "Nan." To-night, we regret to say, closes Lotta's engagement in this city.

PITTSBURGH THEATRE.—Dr. Thayer's engagement at the Pittsburgh Theatre closes to-night. This announcement we know will be received with regret by the Doctor's many friends in this city as well as all lovers of equestrian exhibitions, as Dr. Thayer's company is one of the finest ever assembled in this city. The last matinee for the benefit of ladies and children will be given this afternoon and the farewell entertainment this evening. The house will of course be crowded.

SMYTHE'S AMERICAN THEATRE.—The many brilliant attractions at the American has had a tendency to draw amusement goers toward that establishment this week to such an extent as to fill the house every night. The Victorellis continue to amuse the audience with their wonderful feats on the horizontal bar.

LAFAYETTE HALL.—Bob Brettle, the celebrated pugilist and ex-champion of England, arrived in this city a few days since, and will give a pugilistic entertainment at Lafayette Hall this evening. He will be assisted by Ben Hogan, Henry Harley, Patsy Crowin, and a host of other celebrities. The principal feature of the evening will be a set-to between Brettle and Ben Hogan. The champion belt of the middle weights, which Bob Brettle holds, will be on exhibition at the hall during the evening.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—As we have already announced, Miss Susan Galton's troupe will favor us with three evenings of comic English opera at the Academy of Music during the present week, commencing Monday night, when "Litchen and Fretzchen," the "Bonnie Fish Wife" and "La Rose de St. Flor" will be presented. The Eastern papers, with one accord, speak in the highest and most complimentary terms of this company.

JANAUSCHEK, the great German artist, will occupy the stage at the Academy of Music Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings of next week. The great historical play of Elizabeth will be presented on Thursday evening.

TURNER'S HALL.—The Junior Turner Association announce a grand entertainment at Turner Hall, Sixth avenue, this evening, consisting of tableaux and a high grade of gymnastic exercises.

The Lecture by Mrs. Swisshelm.

EDITORS OF GAZETTE: Your readers are pretty familiar with the flash of Mrs. Swisshelm's Damascus blade of song and sarcasm, and the keen thrusts with which she is wont to meet an opponent; and those of them who were present at Dr. Clark's Church, on Thursday evening, must have been surprised at her altered tone—altered, and certainly for the better. She spoke for over an hour, and there was no root of bitterness, no word that carried a wound We hope the lady will believe us when we say that her milder mood is the stronger, that her deductions from history, her arguments, humor, and pathos, are her strongholds. She had manuscript, but appeared to speak extempore, gave a short-running history of her political experience, which is stranger than fiction, and moved the audience to tears by a brief allusion to her hospital life. Her arguments on universal suffrage are the strongest we have heard, and would be hard to answer. We join with you in the wish that the lecture may be repeated in this city.

A MALARIOUS MONTH.

March, that gives us a new President, is also the inaugural month of many harrassing disorders. Entangled in its fogs are the seeds of coughs, colds and of that alteration of friqidity and fire, more widely known than admired, called fever and ague. The only way to avoid these "little unpleasantnesses," is to render the system strong enough to fight off the atmospheric poison that produces them, and the best way to endow it with this repellant power is to tone it with HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

If a wayfarer were credibly informed that a ruffian was waiting at the next corner, he would doubtless turn in his tracks, and take a safer route to his destination. With just about the same amount of trouble, the attacks of diseases prevalent at this season may be evaded, Nay, the trouble will be less, for drug stores lie in every one's route and every respectable druggist in the Union keeps on hand HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. The article is a staple of trade, and it would be as easy to find a grocery without sugar, as the store of an apothecary without this popular tonic remedy.

In view of the experience of the nation, with regard to the article, during the space of twenty years, it seems almost unnecessary to recapitulate its merits to Americans. But as our population is increasing at the rate of a couple of millions in a year, in the natural way and by immigration, it may be as well to hint to the rising generation and new arrivals (the old settlers know all about it,) that HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is the most wholesome and potent vegetable tonic ever manufactured, that it is a specific for debility, dyspepsia, biliousness, and miasmatic fevers, that it prevents, as well as cures, those complaints and their complications: that it is not "bad to take," and is absolutely harmless.

UNDERGROUND LIFE;

OR:

MINES AND MINERS.

By L. SIMONIN.

Translated by H. W. Bristow, F. R. S.

Illustrated with 160 engravings on wood. 20 maps, geologically colored, and 10 plates of metals and minerals in chromo lithography. 1 vol., 8vo. Price, $18.

[FROM THE LONDON FORTNIGHTLY REVIEW.]

"A translation of the well-known and very valuable 'Vie Souterraine' of M. L. Simonin, by Mr. Bristow, of the Geological Survey, presenting the original work to the English public in a form more splendid than is given to most home products. The book contains three parts, of which the first is given to coal, the second to metalliferous metals, and the third to mines of precious stones. There are fourteen geological maps, some scores of illustrations of the various circumstances and processes of underground life, including the most homely, and the most tragic, and a number of colored illustrations of metals and their various compounds, that are superb in the richness and exactitude of their coloring. Nothing can surpass the sumptuousness of the volume, and the matter is as good and as interesting as the book is splendid. It should be said, perhaps, that its value as a special treatise does not all lessen the interest for the general reader." mh6:f63

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, March 5, 1869.

On the announcement of the new Cabinet to-day and the further rise of bonds in Europe, the price of gold dropped from 131 to 130½, the lowest point yet reached for this season. It now depends how the press will take up the new appointments; if approved of it is likely that a further decline of gold will take place, which will carry with it every article of merchandise and produce, and will, for a time, check our export trade; but if the new Secretary of the Treasury remains at the head of his mammoth establishment in New York, a further depression of the gold premium would certainly bring on very heavy losses to his large importing interests. Judging from this point, it is not likely that the new Secretary could be over zealous in hastening on specie payments by artificial means. If the appointment was known to Mr. Stuart, he possessed a power which could be detrimental to the interests of those rivalling with him in the same business. Be it as it may, the inauguration of the new President has not yet the effect on the European bond market that was expected, and instead of a sharp and decisive advance, the market suffered even a partial decline in bonds. It is thus evident that the whole events have been discounted by far-seeing financiers, and disappointment thus following those who, too over-confident in the effect of the event just passed, their tactics have to be changed to a new direction. The disposition here is rather to sell bonds than to buy at present high prices, which is shown by difference in price of the old and new bonds. 1862's advanced nearly two per cent. while 1867 advanced but half per cent.

In stocks the market is dragging along with downward tendency, and a disposition to get out of the heavy loads of stocks.

Express shares were higher and firmer; American Merchants Union advanced to 44, an advance 7 per cent. within six days.

Money easier, with a gradually improving demand.

Mertz: Gold, 131; Silver, 124; Eighty-one's, 116¼; Five Twenties, 1862, 119½; do 1864, 115; do 1865, 115¼; do 1865, Consols, 113; do 1867, 113¼; do 1868, 113; Ten Forties, 105¾; New York Central, 158½; Erie, ——; Reading, 90¾; Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railroad, 117; Ohio & Mississippi, 33½; Michigan Southern, 95½; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 89¼; Chicago & Rock Island, 125¾; Chicago & North Western, 81¾; Chicago & North Western Preferred, 89¾; Adams Express Company, 62¾; Merchants Union Express, 16; Pacific Mail, 100; Western Union Telegraph Company, 36¾; Gregory, 2,10; Quartz Hill, 77; Corydon, 10; Smith & Parmele, 1,55; Am. [By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, March 5, 1869.

The great feature of Wall street this afternoon was the excitement consequent upon the announcement of the Cabinet appointment of Mr. Stewart, and occasioned a fall of 1 per cent. on gold and a buoyancy and higher rates in the Government Bond market. His well-known views in favor of contraction and the resumption of specie payment, and his mercantile reputation, were the occasion; there is, however, a general opinion that he cannot retain the office consistently with his private interests. The Cabinet otherwise was received with surprise. A certified copy of the bill abolishing quarterly bank statements of banks on the same day, as in the past, and which is expected to alleviate the periodical stringency of the money market, has been received. The money market to-day was easy at 7 per cent. on call, with exception of 6 per cent. on Governments.

Sterling heavy at 8¾@8⅞ per cent.

Gold lower and excited, with a perfect rush to sell. In the afternoon prices opened at 7 to 3 per cent. for carrying. Clearances, $88,000,000.

Governments active, buoyant and higher, with considerable excitement; the London prices being the highest yet reached, owing to Mr. Stewart's nomination as Secretary of the Treasury. Coupons of 1881, 116½@116¾; do. '62, 119¼@119½; do. '64, 115¼@115½; do. '65, 116¾@117.

State bonds firmer: Missouris, 89½; old Tennessees, 66½@67½; new do., 65½; North Carolinas, 58@@58¾; Virginias, 60@62.

Stock market weak and about ¼@½ per cent. lower, without special features, closing weak and unsettled.

Five-thirty Prices:—Cumberland, 37@38; Wells Express, 31¼@31¾; American, 44; Adams, 62½@62¾; Merchants, 17½; Quicksilver, 24½@24¾; Canton, 59¼@59¾; Pacific Mail, 99⅝@99⅝; Western Union Telegraph, 36¼@35¾; Mariposa, 13½@13¾; do. preferred, 32¾@32¾; New York Central, 157¼@157¼; Erie, 36@36¼; Hudson, 136¼@136¾; Reading, 90¼@90¼; Harlem, 135@136; Terre Haute, 35@38; Wabash, 65¾@66¼; do. preferred, 76; St. Paul, 64¾@64¾; do. preferred, 76¼@76¼; Ft. PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, March 5, 1869.

The market to-day was unsettled and irregular, with a fair volume of business in Crude, but next to nothing in Refined; in regard to prices there is no essential change. The rumors current yesterday in regard to the bull ring in New York running short of funds, is most emphatically contradicted; also, that there had been a disagreement among themselves and that they were operating independently of each other. We have it, from a reliable source, that everything is working smoothly, and satisfactorily, so far as the parties above alluded to are concerned, and that they are perfectly satisfied with the situation, the thousand and one rumors to the contrary notwithstanding. We also learn that there are plenty of orders in the hands of exporters, and that, if so disposed, they could contract for future deliveries at present prices; but they are disposed to hold back in hopes that by so doing they will be enabled to fill their orders at lower figures.

REFINED—The market was very quiet to-day, not a single sale reported, and at the close the feeling seemed to be a little offish, and eastern buyers were asking for concessions. March, last half, is reported as having opened at 36, but in the afternoon, 35½@35¾ were the best offers that could be obtained. There were offers to buy March and April at 36, and April to December, may be quoted, in the absence of sales, at 36½.

CRUDE—The Crude market was a little more active, and if anything a shade stronger, though without important change, compared with yesterday. Sale 500 each April to December at 17¼; 500 each March to December at $6,75 per bbl at Oil City; 500 each same months, at $6,65; 1,000 March, seller, at 16½; and 5,000 seller, till August, at 16.

PITTSBURGH METAL MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, March 5, 1869.

The market, since the date of our last report, presents but little that is really new or important. The receipts both from the East and West continue fair, and it is said that there is more Eastern iron in the market than there has been for some time, though as yet there is no great accumulation of stock. The great proportion of the Western irons are being put in on further contracts, and it is reported that many of the Western furnaces are sold ahead for the next thirty or perhaps sixty days. In regard to prices there is little or no change, compared with last week, though, as already noted, the market is a little weakish.

Dry Goods Markets.

NEW YORK, March 5.—Dry Goods.—There is rather an improving inquiry for staple goods adapted to the wants of the early trade, and prices generally rule quite uniform, and for the most part are low enough. Light Woolens can be bought to-day in acceptable styles at $1,25 per yard, which is relatively as low as they ever were, and Sprague Calicos at one shilling per yard to-day is as cheap as before the war at 9c. Heavy Brown Sheetings like Atlantic A and Indian Head are firm at 17c; Pacific extra and Stark, 16½c; Roxbury, 16¾c; Bootte, 11½c; do. R, 10½c; Suffolk E has been reduced to 10½c, as are Tremont E. All ligh Sheetings are a little depressed, as are Printing Cloths, which were inactive at 8½c for standard makes. Colored Cottons are generally steady and in limited request, at former prices. Glazed Cambrics are a little depressed and were offered ½c lower, at 10c for Manville, and 11c for Pequot.

CHICAGO, March 5.—Beef Cattle quiet and 20@25c lower, at $4,00@5,73 for cows and light steers, $6,00@6,87½ for fair to medium, and $7,00@7,75 for good to choice shipping steers. Hogs quiet and 10@15c lower, at $9,00@9,75 for common to medium, and $10@11 for good to choice assorted lots.

ST. LOUIS, March 5.—Cattle Market—Cattle quiet and unchanged; sales at 3¾@6¾ for common to choice. Hogs steady at 8@10¼.

CLIPPINGS.

TANNING.—It has been discovered recently in France that oak wood is almost as well adapted for the tanning of hides as the bark, and that almost any kind will answer the purpose. The principal point to be attended to is to make use of wood cut when it is full of sap, as thereby the greatest amount of tannin is secured. The wood may be used without the bark, or wood and bark may be ground up together and applied in the usual method.

A NEW PIPE BILL.—The producers in all parts of the region have taken the matter of oil transportation pipes in hand, and are to petition the Legislature, as soon as it meets, for an oil pipe transportation charter, the provisions of which are, we are informed, to be so liberal that the business of moving oil by means of pipes will be thrown open to the public. A bill of this character, or a free pipe law, is urgently needed by the producing interest, and we trust the Legislature will act favorably.

GŒRGEY, once an Hungarian patriot, is now said to be actively engaged in scientific pursuits, and professes to have entirely withdrawn from politics. It is reported at Pesth, however, that the Emperor, having a high opinion of his military talents, has expressed a wish that he should be consulted on various important matters relating to the organization of the new Hungarian army. Gœrgey is still so unpopular among his countrymen that no official communications are made to him by the War department.

LUXEMBOURG, it was decided by the London Conference of 1867, should belong neither to France nor Prussia, but no provision was made to enforce the decree. The fortifications also were to be demolished by the inhabitants, but the rate of progress of the work was not prescribed. The inhabitants, however, it is stated, have appropriated the sum of $7,50 per week to carry on the demolition of the fortresses, and it is calculated that it will take about two thousand years to complete the leveling of the walls.

INDIANA.—It is reported that crime prevails to an extraordinary extent in Indiana, in consequence of the failure of the authorities to enforce the laws. Twenty-one murders in ten days in a State with a population of a million and a half is asserted to be something frightful, and the condition of affairs exceeds that of any of the Southern States—even Texas itself. In ten of these cases only were the murderers arrested; in five others they were known to the authorities, but escaped, and in six cases the assassins are not known.

THE NEW SPEAKER.—Hon. James G. Blaine, the Speaker of the Forty-first Congress, was born in Washington county, Pa., in 1830, and graduated at Washington College in 1847. He adopted the profession of editor, and having removed to Maine, edited the Kennebec Journal and Portland Advertiser for several years. He served four years in the Legislature of Maine, two of which as Speaker of the House of Representatives. In 1861, he was elected to Congress, to which body he has been three times successively re-elected.

MR. HUGH LEE, a civil engineer of Beloit, has invented a stock car for carrying horses or cattle upon railroads, which will prove of great importance to railroad men, and to the public generally. The interior of the car is subdivided into four or five compartments, by means of partitions moving upon rollers. The water is conveyed to the troughs from water tanks, by means of gutta percha tubes. It is claimed that stock shipped in cars constructed upon this plan need not be unshipped while upon a long journey, and can be kept as comfortable as in stalls at home.

WOLFE, Ophthalmic Surgeon for the royal infirmatory, Scotland, reports curing several cases of cancer by applying caustic arrows, which he inserted in deep, broad punctures into the diseased part. As many as five arrows were used at one time. This acid destroyed the vitality of the morbid growth in three days, when it came away. The wound should be treated by water dressings. He reports that this treatment gave no pain, which, it true, is a most remarkable circumstance. Cancers, it must be observed, must be killed, not cured, and this is why the poisonous carbolic acid is used.

PROMINENT Bostonians are still agitating the question of opening the Public Library on Sundays; and, as the City Solicitor has given an opinion that such an innovation is forbidden by statute, a bill is before the Legislature to remove the legal bar. Among the movers in this project are such clergymen as Edward E. Hale, James Freeman Clarke and Rufus Ellis, such leaders of opinion as Wendell Phillips, literary men like James T. Fields, business firms like the Chickerings and Jordan, Marsh & Co., and names which no one would look for in such a list, like that of William Warren, the comedian.

A LETTER from Montpelier, Vermont, says: "A few days since a gentleman of this place, with his hired man, horse and sleigh, were making a tour to a residence some twenty miles away. When near their destination the horse stepped out of the path and was instantly buried in the snow. The hired man jumping out to rescue the horse, found himself in the same fix as the horse, except his head and shoulders. His companion, with astonishment, shouted: 'Do you touch bottom?' After a short struggle and some excitement, his reply was, 'No, I am standing on the top rail of a fence—at least five feet from the bottom.' However, they had the good luck to get all right again, and returned home before the late storm, which adds a foot and a half to our previous depth of snow."

AN AMUSING scene was recently witnessed at one of our fashionable skating ponds. On a beautiful moonlight night, when the ice was unusually crowded, the principal attraction was a beautiful young lady, charmingly dressed, with short skirts. She was a very graceful skater, and in her evolutions displayed a pair of beautifully formed ankles, so symmetrical that they seemed to charm the eyes of the young men, although they aroused the envy of her own sex. But beauty's reign in this case was short; she fell upon the ice, and had the misfortune to rip her stocking with her skate. Not being aware of the mishap she suddenly rose, and continued to glide over the ice as before; but now the admiration for her was turned to laughter, for a trail of sawdust followed her, oozing from the ill-fated stocking. It is needless to add she shortly left the ice.

HABEAS CORRUS CASE.

The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania ex relatione W. H. H. Whiting vs. James Dignam and Elizabeth Dignam, his wife. Habeas corpus to produce Anna May Whiting, aged about four years, before Hon. John M. Kirkpatrick at nine A. M., March 5th, in the District Court.

The relator, W. H. H. Whiting, did not appear personally in Court, the writ of Hab. Corp. having been obtained by his mother, Mrs. Whiting, (grand-mother of the child) who was represented by Thomas M. Marshall, Esq. The respondents, through A. M. Brown, their counsel, made return to the writ that the child (being their grand-daughter) was lawfully detained by virtue of an indenture of apprenticeship made by and between the Guardians of the Poor of the city of Pittsburgh November 19, 1868.

The father of the child was married to the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dignam, who died about two years ago, her husband, the relator, having before that time gone to Louisville, Kentucky, leaving his wife and children here. He came here at the date of his wife's decease, but immediately returned to Kentucky, leaving his three infant children with their friends here, without any provision for their maintenance. The youngest child died here (in the absence of its father, about two months after the decease of Mrs. Whiting. The eldest child is with Mrs. Whiting, his grand-mother; the other (the one in controversy) has remained with her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Dignam. The relator visited the child but once (in June last,) since the death of his wife, and has not provided for or contributed for her maintenance, although requested to do so. The grand mother, Mrs. Dignam, not from any desire to keep and provide for the child, but to have its legal condition fixed, made known the facts to the Guardians of the Poor, and temporarily committed the child to their charge, whereupon they immediately executed the indenture, providing carefully for the comfortable maintenance and education of the child. The little girl was in Court, and appeared to have been affectionately cared for by her grand-parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dignam.

The main question in the case is whether, under the circumstances of the case, the indenture by the guardians is valid or legal.

The case was fully argued before Judge Kirkpatrick, who will render his decision this (Saturday) morning.

Quarter Sessions—Judge Stowe.

FRIDAY, March 5.—In the case of the Commonwealth vs. James Thackery, indicted for assault and battery, reported yesterday. Verdict of not guilty and defendant to pay the costs.

Commonwealth vs. Dennis Devine; indicted for larceny, reported yesterday. Verdict of not guilty.

Alexander Neeley, indicted for assault and battery, on oath of Olive Neeley, was arraigned and plead guilty. He was remanded for sentence.

Commonwealth vs. Samuel Carney, indicted for assault and battery. Defendant plead guilty and was sentenced to pay a fine of $20 and costs of prosecution.

Patrick McCann, indicted for assault and battery, Mary Sheehan prosecutrix, was next placed on trial. The jury found a verdict of guilty, and the Court sentenced the prisoner to pay a fine of $10 and costs of prosecution.

LARCENY.

John Bird, indicted for larceny, Robert VanHorner, prosecutor, was placed on trial and plead not guilty. The prosecutor testified that some time during the month of October last, about eight o'clock in the evening, he went to Mrs. Brightmoore's saloon, a den on Arthurs street, and there met the defendant, Bird, with whom he became acquainted. After remaining there some time he expressed his intention to go to Allegheny city, where he was boarding, when Bird proposed to him to wait a short time, stating that he was bar-keeper, and could not leave until he closed up the saloon, but he resided in Allegheny city and would shut up in a few minutes and go home with him. Bird then proposed to him to treat and he would then close up the shop. He consented, and pulled out a roll of money $63 and laid it on the counter; that Bird then picked it up and said he was going to close the shop. They all went out, the prosecutor going last, and as soon as he was out the door was closed and Bird failed to make his appearance. The prosecutor then went and secured the services of a police officer and returned to the house, but the Bird had flown. The theory of the defense was that the prosecutor was drunk and did not know what became of his money. The jury returned a verdict of guilty. Mr. McCarthy, counsel for defendant, moved for a new trial in arrest of judgment.

ASSAUL AND BATTERY.

William, alias "Snibbs" Arnold was next placed on trial on two indictments for assault and battery, in which Elizabeth Sinuella and Susanna Saunders appeared as prosecuting witnesses. One of the prosecutrixes, Elizabeth Sinuella, keeps a fruit stand on Liberty street, and the other is employed by her. She alleges that "Snibbs" came to her stand and wanted her to trust him for a sandwich, which she repeatedly and emphatically declined to do. He then threatened to do some damage to the establishment, when Mrs. Sinuella told the girl, Susanna Saunders, to go for a policeman. When the girl started to go, "Snibbs" pushed her back, and then Mrs. S. started to go, when he also pushed her back and drew a revolver. Verdict of guilty in both cases.

In the case in which Susanna Sanders was prosecutrix, the sentence of the Court was that the defendant pay a fine of five dollars and costs of prosecution and undergo an imprisonment of thirty days in the county jail, and in the other case a fine of five dollars, the costs of prosecution and undergo an imprisonment of sixty days in the county jail.

THE

ask the attention of all interested in the reduction of the extravagant cost of Butter, to their practical and economical system of making pure prime Butter by the aid of the

EXTRACT OF BUTTER PLANT.

A brief allusion to the origin of this important discovery may not prove uninteresting. Among the authenticated records of the renowned Captain Cook's voyage around the world, is found the statement, that while sojourning for a short time on the Brazilian Coast of South America, he observed the natives using, in the preparation of their food, a peculiar oil, which, upon examination, he found to possess the appearance, taste and flavor of Butter; upon further inquiry, however, he ascertained that it was simply a substance that the natives distilled in a crude and imperfect manner, from a rich and luxuriant plant that grew spontaneously and abundantly in that warm tropical country. A few years ago, an eminent French chemist, while on a professional visit to the tropics, made numerous experiments with this remarkable production of nature, and succeeded in extracting a concentrated essence of the plant. The formula for its preparation, and the Sole Right for its sale in this country are the exclusive property of this Company, by whom it was purchased from the original discoverer. We claim for this remarkable, yet simple and perfectly harmless preparation—

1st.—That by its use a net gain of from 50 to 200 per cent. is made in the manufacture of Butter.

2d.—That Butter, which from age or whatever cause, may be strong, rancid, streaked or coarse-grained, and comparatively useless for general use, by the aid of this Extract, is restored to its original freshness and sweetness, fine-grain, and even color.

3d.—By the use of this Extract, one pound of delicious, fresh Butter is actually made from one pint of milk.

4th.—That a pure and excellent table Butter can be made, at a cost of from 15 to 20 cents per pound. The chief expense wherein being Butter, which is the essential base.

5th.—That Butter manufactured by the aid of this Extract is equal in every respect to the best Butter made by the ordinary method.

6th.—The Extract after thorough analysis, by able chemists, is pronounced perfectly free from any deleterious substance, the ingredients being purely of a vegetable nature.

8th.—In proof of the foregoing assertions, the factory of this company is making one ton of Butter per day, which meets with ready sale in the New York Market, and is consumed from the tables of the first Hotels, Restaurants and Private families in this city and elsewhere.

A sample package of the Extract (sufficient to make 50 lbs. of Butter) with full directions for use, will be sent to

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Rev. B. F. Brooke, of Memphis, will preach to-morrow, at the usual hours, morning and evening, and Christs Episcopal church, Allegheny.

Committed.—J. J. Capat was committed to jail yesterday, in default of a fine, by Alderman Hays, of Allegheny, for carrying on the business of peddling without having the necessary license.

Another Wife Whipper.—David Elikens was arrested in Allegheny last evening, on an information preferred against him by his wife for assault and battery. He failed to procure bail and was locked up for a hearing to-day.

Committed for Trial.—Charles A. Hunter, arrested on a charge of larceny, an account of which we published yesterday, after a hearing before the Mayor was committed to jail for trial in default of the required bail for his appearance at Court.

Hon. Charles Shaler died yesterday at Newark, N. J., aged eighty years. His remains will arrive in this city to-day for interment in the Allegheny Cemetery. The members of the bar will hold a meeting this morning to take appropriate action on the death of their late member.

Taken to Dixmont.—Patrick McShane, a resident of the Sixth ward, was taken to Dixmont Hospital yesterday by officer Fred Rivers. McShane has for some time past evinced signs of insanity, and had recently become quite unmanageable, in consequence of which his friends were compelled to send him to a place of security.

The sale of the large of trimmings, notions, embroideries and lace goods at the store recently occupied by Dennison & Heckert, No. 27 Fifth avenue, and which was purchased by Macrum & Carlisle at a great bargain, still continues to attract many purchasers. Ladies will find everything they may desire at prices much lower than original cost.

Conjugal Infelicity.—John Hartz, a resident of Allegheny, must be a heartless creature, if the statement of his wife be true. She alleges that he beat her in an outrageous manner yesterday morning without provocation of any kind on her part. John was arrested and after a hearing, in default of fine, was committed to jail for twenty days by Mayor Drum.

New Salt Well.—A new and rich vein of salt has been struck at the corner of Franklin street and Beaver avenue, Sixth ward, Allegheny, by Messrs. Graham and Allen, who have had workmen engaged in boring a well at that point for some time past. The well is 1,460 feet deep. Messrs. Graham and Allen are owners of several other salt wells in the immediate vicinity.

Editors Gazette: A very interesting revival of religion is now going on in the Methodist church (non-Episcopal) at Eldersville, Pa., Rev. C. K. Stillwagon, Pastor. The meeting has been in progress for more than six weeks. Between twenty and thirty persons have been united with the Methodist church in that place. Meetings are still being held every evening in the church at 6½ o'clock P. M. P.

Home Missionary Anniversary.—The anniversary services of the Ladies' Home Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal church will be held in Christ Church, Penn street, to-morrow afternoon at three o'clock. Besides the reports of missionaries in the employ of the Society, addresses will be made by Dr. S. H. Nesbit, of the Christian Advocate, and Rev. W. H. Locke, pastor of Liberty street M. E. church.

Nominated.—The following persons have been placed in nomination, by the citizens of Temperanceville borough, for the offices named. The election will be held Friday, March 19, 1869: Burgess, Col. J. W. Ballentine; Council, John S. Hollingshead, John S. Hunter, Howell Jones, John Mayhard and Thos. Fox; School Directors, N. Ballentine, Thos. Ralph; Judge of Election, John Wilkinson; Inspectors, N. Ballentine, John Mayhard; Assessor, John S. Hollingsnead; Auditor, Adam Weaver; Constable, John Thompson.

The Rink To-Day.—Extensive arrangements have been made for the enjoyment of visitors to the Rink to day. The ice never was in better condition, which is a sufficient inducement, certainly for a large attendance of skaters. Then spectators will find ample entertainment in the hurdle race and the velocipede exercise which comes off in the afternoon, and the "skating contest" and "novice act," music, &c., &c. As this will perhaps be the last ice of the season, every lover of the art should improve the opportunity by attending.

Sewerage in Allegheny.—We stated yesterday that considerable opposition was being manifested to the proposed sewerage law for the city, now pending before the Legislature. On Thursday evening a large number of citizens of the Third, Fourth, Seventh and Eighth wards assembled in school house No. 5, on North Canal street, to take some action in regard to the matter. Wm. Brown, Esq., presided, and Dr. Alcorn officiated as Secretary. After a full and free discussion of the question, the meeting adjourned until Monday evening next, when some decided action will be taken.

We call the attention of our male readers to the fact that W. Hespenheid & Co., No. 50 Sixth avenue, has just opened their spring stock of goods, and a finer and larger assortment of goods cannot be found in this city. This firm, always among the leaders of fashion, are now prepared to make spring suits of the latest styles, and of the best material, than any house of their standing in the city. We ask the attention of our gentlemen readers to this house, and advise them to call at once before the rush commences, and have their spring clothes made and ready to appear among the first of the season.

Proposed Change.

For some time past the managers of the St. Clair street suspension bridge have contemplated a change in the toll-house, in order to remedy the inconvenience experienced by the collectors, by the manner in which the collecting windows are now constructed. At present the collectors are unable to perceive the approach of a pedestrian until he is nearly opposite the window, and thus he is sometimes stopped until they can recall his countenance.

It is designed, in the new arrangement, to place the collecting window of each toll-house on the side directly facing the street by which the bridge is approached. By this means the collector can have a full view of the pedestrian some time before his entrance upon the bridge, allowing ample opportunity for recognition. Plans for the improvement have been prepared, and the work will be accomplished as soon as the weather is suitable for outdoor labor.

A Hackman Fined for Extortion--The Ordinance Relating to Hackmen to be Enforced.

Yesterday Jackson M'Pherson, a young man from up the Allegheny Valley Railroad, made information before the Mayor charging John Hancock, a hackman, with extortion. He arrived in the city on his way to St. Louis, Missouri, Thursday evening, and it appears was informed by John that the Union Depot was some distance away, and was induced by him to take a cab and ride over. John furnished the vehicle and conveyed the boy and his baggage, a small valise, to the Union Depot, only two squares distant, for which service he charged McPherson four dollars and twenty-five cents. The young man objected to paying the amount, but John, who has been in the business some time and understands it, knowing the young man to be verdant, insisted upon payment and refused to give up the baggage until the bill was paid. McFerson, in order to get his baggage, paid the bill, but instead of leaving on the next train remained, and made information as stated. Hancock was arrested and brought before the Mayor, who fined him ten dollars and costs for a violation of the ordinance regulating the rates to be charged for carrying passengers and baggage within the city limits. The ordinance fixes the rates for each passenger at fifty cents and for each trunk twenty-five cents, and further provides that all hacks, carriages, omnibusses and other vehicles used in conveying passengers for pay to and from railroad depots, steamboats, hotels, dwellings, &c., shall keep a copy of the ordinance, plainly printed, together with the number of the vehicle, posted or hung up in a conspicuous place in said vehicle.

It is gratifying to know that this ordinance, which has been a dead letter since its passage over a year ago, is to be enforced. It is the only means of protecting strangers from the impositions of these land sharks who are ever on the look out for some one to rob.

The ordinance has been printed in neat form on card board and copies of it may be obtained at the Treasurer's office, and it is the intention of the Mayor to punish to the full extent of the law every violation of it. All persons engaged in the business of transporting passengers will, if they are wise, procure a copy and have it placed in their vehicle at once.

The rates allowed by the city are sufficient compensation for the labor performed, at least within the limits of the old city, and in cases where the hackman thinks they are not sufficient, he is not compelled to take the passenger.

It is the duty of every police officer to return any and every person who he knows to be violating this law, as much as it is his duty to arrest drunken and disorderly persons, and the Mayor should so instruct them.

The Drowned Men—Additional Particulars.

The following additional particulars relative to the unfortunate occurrence on the Monongahela river, between Morgantown and Geneva, an account of which we published on the 27th ult., we clip from the Waynesburg Messenger of the 3d inst.:

"On Friday night, the 19th ult., Mr. Johnson, living at the mouth of Dunkard, in this county, heard some persons passing down the river in a skiff. One asked 'What stream is that?' and another answered 'That is Dunkard Creek.' A short distance below this point is the riffle in the river, with a schute about the middle of the stream. In the middle of this schute is an ugly snag, which it is now believed, beyond doubt, upset the fated skiff and threw the doomed men into the water. A Mrs. Thompson, living on the hill opposite the above named snag, was on the porch and heard the voices of several men, apparently in distress, in the direction of the point where the accident is supposed to have occurred. Her husband was from home, and she started to go to the aid of the sufferers, but her little boy told her not to go, as it was only some drunken fellows, wanting to fool or scare the people in the neighborhood. The number of the voices seemed to grow less. Another lady, Mrs. Chisler, living half a mile further down (who was also alone,) asserts that she heard splashing in the water, and the voices of two persons, as they seemed to be passing slowly down the stream, evidently in great terror or distress; one of these voices seemed feeble or exhausted, while the other was strong and encouraging; as if a young, strong man were striving to aid an aged and feeble one. It is now supposed that these two persons were still clinging to the upturned skiff, as it floated down the current. After they had passed the residence of the listner a few hundred yards all became still, and nothing more was heard from the unfortunate men."

A Long Journey.

A woman appeared before Mayor Drum yesterday morning, who gave her name as Margaret Toney, and stated that she was on her way to join her relatives in Ohio. She said she formerly lived in Ohio, was married, and moved with her husband to Conneautville, Crawford county, Pennsylvania. A year or so after the removal to Conneautville her husband died, leaving her and a child in destitute circumstances. She determined to return to her former home, and having no money was compelled to perform the journey on foot. She had constructed a small wagon upon which she placed a basket containing her child, which she was thus enabled to draw along with her. All along the route she says she received kind treatment, and in many cases material aid. She had called at the Mayor's office the night before and lodged there over night; but in the morning, as soon as released, she started on her journey, seemingly as hopeful and encouraged as though she was but starting out on a May day excursion.

Aggravating! Very.

Peter Mertz brought to the notice of Alderman McMasters, yesterday, a case of aggravated assault and battery. Peter stated he was prosecutor in a case in which Mrs. Elizabeth Grabosky was defendant, and which was being tried in Court yesterday. Wishing to make some explanation, and noticing her standing in the Court house rotunda, he approached, when (so he alleges) she caught him by the ear with one hand, slapped him in the face with the other and deposited some of the contents of her mouth upon his countenance, changing the color thereof from white to that of snuff—a proceeding which aggravated him beyond measure. At Peter's request a warrant was issued for the arrest of Elizabeth on an information for aggravated assault and battery. Peter resides in Allegheny, and Elizabeth claims Fairview as the place of her abode.

Liebler, No. 104 Wood street, has on hand a large and magnificent assortment of trunks, valises, satchels, portfolios, &c., which are home made and will be sold at very reasonable prices. Call in and examine his stock before purchasing elsewhere.

Severe Accidents—Narrow Escape.

Yesterday afternoon about five o'clock Mr. Walter Warden, Assistant Yardmaster at the Cleveland Railroad Freight Depot, Pittsburgh, met with a severe accident in Allegheny while on his way home from work. He got on a freight train to ride over from the yard to Allegheny, and when the Federal street crossing was reached he attempted to jump off. By some means, however, he made a miscalculation in jumping, and instead of alighting with both feet on the ground, he fell heavily upon the cobble stone pavement, with one leg under him, which was broken below the knee by the force of the fall. Several persons in the vicinity ran to his assistance and carried him into the passenger depot, where Dr. Huselton, who had been summoned, attended his injuries. Besides breaking his leg, he received other severe bruises upon different parts of his body, none of which, however, are of a serious character. After receiving medical attention, he was conveyed to his residence in the Second ward, Allegheny.

About an hour after the injury to Mr. Warden, an accident, somewhat similar in character, but likely to prove more serious in results, happened at the same place. Jhonny Fisher, a lad about thirteen years of age, jumped upon a freight train which was moving out of the yard alongside of the Federal Street Station. Failing to secure a permanent position on the platform of the car, while passing through the gateway his back struck against the post, and he was knocked off to the ground. In falling, one foot caught in a ring bolt in the car, and he was dragged, lying on his back, half way across the street before he succeeded in extricating himself from the perilous position. As soon as the foot became released from the bolt it dropped right under one of the car wheels, which passed over and crushed it in a terrible manner. The boy was picked up by the watchman on duty at the gate and carried into the station, when the services of Dr. Huselton were again procured. The foot was found to be very badly smashed; but the Doctor thought he might, with care, be able to save it. The boy was also severely bruised upon the back and shoulders by the fall, but these injuries are not considered dangerous. After his wounds had been dressed he was removed to his home at Spring Garden, Seventh ward, Allegheny.

Scene on Fifth Avenue.

Yesterday afternoon the foot pavement at the lower end of Fifth avenue was very much obstructed by a number of large bales of foreign merchandize, which a certain carpet house had been receiving. The almost daily accumulation of goods in front of this house for the last two weeks would lead the casual observer to suppose a flagrant violation of a city ordinance relative to the obstruction of pavements. Whilst that is a matter that the police will have to attend to, we would call the attention of the public to that which is of greater importance, the commendable spirit of enterprise involved. The bales referred to contained a number of pieces of new patterns of Brussels carpet from a leading European manufacturer, which the importers, Messrs. Oliver M'Clintock & Co., are confident are the first received in this country. It is the chef de oevre of the best European designer, and is in the most exquisite and artistic combination of colors, with a bordering and rug made to match. It is pronounced by the experienced to be the most beautiful production yet brought from the carpet loom.

The Messrs. M'Clintock & Co. inform us that they will cheerfully show it and the numerous other new styles of carpets to the interested and curious at their spacious warerooms, No. 23 Fifth avenue.

"Red Seal."

The cigar known as the "Red Seal" has within a few months past become unusually popular with all lovers of the weed, and in consequence of the great demand for that brand, many unscrupulous dealers have supplied themselves of a spurious article, being the brand which they palm off on their customers. The genuine article, however, con be obtained at the popular establishment of John Megraw, No. 45 Hand street, where will be found one of the largest and best stocks of tobacco, snuff and cigars in the city. Mr. Megraw informs us that he has a brand of cigars which he considers far superior to the best "Red Seal" to be obtained, in this or any other market. Retail dealers will find it to their advantage to call at 45 Hand street before making purchases elsewhere.

Pleasant Occasion.

On Thursday evening the ladies and gentlemen of Simpson Chapel M. E. Sunday School, Eighth ward, Allegheny, met at the residence of Rev. R. Cunningham, pastor in charge, and surprised him and his lady with a handsome present to each. Miss L. A. Haller, in a very graceful way, presented, on the part of the school, an elegant silver castor to Mrs. Cunningham, after which Mr. Harry W. Minnemeyer, in appropriate and well chosen words, made the presentation to Rev. Cunningham of a gold-headed cane, to which Mr. Cunningham replied in his usual pleasing style. The cane was a very fine one, with the inscription: "Presented to Rev. R. Cunningham by Simpson Chapel Sunday School, March 4th, 1869." The evening passed off very pleasantly to all.

Daring Robbery.

Thursday evening last a bold and daring highway robbery was perpetrated at or near the Allegheny Valley Railroad Depot. Mr. John Diamond, formerly a resident of this city, but at present residing at Hulton Station, on the Allegheny Valley Railroad, was visiting his brother, who resides on Penn street, in the Twelfth ward, and about eight o'clock he started to the Allegheny Valley Depot, intending to go home on the night train. When near the depot, on Pike street, he was attacked by two men, knocked down and his watch and pocket book, containing sixty dollars, taken. Mr. D. was left insensible and was found some time afterwards by a policeman, who conducted him to the watch-house, where he was propely cared for and sent to a hotel.

Iron City College.

The Iron City College of this city, so well and favorably known, both at home and abroad, is one of the established institutions of Pittsburgh which enjoys a national fame and reputation. It has now been in continued and successful operation some fifteen years, and its patronage coming from all parts of the Union, composed of all ages, from boys of sixteen to men of forty years of age, including not only young men from the farm, the workshops and the schools, but gentlemen of mature age, many of them the heads of large business houses, perhaps surpasses that of any other commercial institution in the country. Many of our most successful merchants, bankers and business men took their first steps here, and do not hesitate to attribute their prosperity, in no small degree, to the valuable lessons learned, and careful instruction received at the College.

Its present high standing, in many respects an enviable one, the result not of one but of many causes, is attributable in no small degree to the excellence of its course of study and system of instruction, which secure to its students not only all the advantages of a thorough and comprehensive knowledge of the theory, but such a familiarity with the practical details of business as to insure proficiency in the branches taught. Further, the skill and acknowledged ability of the Principals, Messrs. J. C. Smith, A. M., author of the National Accountant, and A. Cowley, author of Cowley's System of Practical Penmanship, both teachers of long experience, and alike distinguished in their respective departments of instruction, have contributed not a little to its fame. Another circumstance, and one which has tended greatly to its popularity is, that its managers are careful not to hold out inducements which cannot be realized; they do not propose to accomplish the labor of months in so many days, but give their pupils to understand that merit alone is the passport to positions of responsibility and trust. The consequence is a superior class of graduates to those issuing from schools which purport to be able to impart to inexperienced youth in the short space of four or five weeks a complete knowledge of mercantile science and practice.

To persons desirous of acquiring a thorough business education, we can safely say that a school with better facilities, more accomplished and devoted instructors than the Iron City College, is not to be found.

A Neat Table.

To ensure neatness in the appointments of the household table, one of the most important requisites is that of a proper supply and choice of Queensware. So well is this fact known that good housewives would rather pay almost two prices than purchase inferior articles. This, however, is rendered altogether unnecessary now, as the goods manufactured at the Keystone Pottery are fully equal to the demands of the times, and are sold at prices which place them within the reach of all. Any of our readers in need of articles of Queensware would do well to call at No. 363 Liberty street and test the truth of our observations by an examination of the stock on hand.

GENUINE GLYCERINE TOILET SOAP,
Manufactured by PETER SQUIRE, 227 Oxford street, London
This soap has been, by a peculiar process, freed from the excess of alkali almost invariably found even in the purest soaps, and at the same time it is made to take up a large quantity of Glycerine (40 per cent.) It is to this latter substance that it chiefly owes its soothing quality—softening the skin, preserving the complexion, preventing chapping and the unpleasant roughness experienced in cold weather. It is found most useful in alleviating the irritation produced by dryness of the skin.
On account of its great purity it recommends itself to all persons that suffer from the use of common soaps; for delicate skins it is the only soap that can be tolerated. It is particularly useful for cleansing diseased skins where the irritation produced by ordinary soaps causes so much inconvenience.
It is the most agreeable shaving soap that can be used, leaving the face soft and comfortable.
The soaps usually sold as Glycerine Soaps contain little or no Glycerine. It is only necessary to apply the tongue to the surface, and the genuine will be distinguished from the spurious by the sweet taste. AGENT,

SIMON JOHNSTON,
Corner Smithfield Street and Fourth Avenue, Pittsburgh.
